TREATY OUTLOOK NOT BRIGHT

Phins are being made by the irreconcilables to put every opponent of the treaty in the Senate out among the people and keep them busy explaining to the people that this country must keep out or get out of the league. In this fashion, the bitter-enders say, that issue will be forced and made plain.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Feb. 24.—
The live stock market today showed a hesitating tone. Sheep, which for some time past have been selling at high figures, developed a decline. Cattle trade was dull at weak prices, and hogs were lower. Other markets displayed the same general conditions and the live stock trade throughout is marking time for a wider outlet for meats. Feeders stock trade throughout is marking time for a wider outlet for meats. Feeders who have live stock fat enough to market are inclined to move them. The smallest per cent of steers on feed ever known are being held for finish.

Trade in beef cattle continues duil, and there is no indication of a general improvement in demand. Killers are inclined to hold down their orders because of narrow demand for beef, and at the same time they are buying the low priced steers in ureference to those with finish. Most of the steers today sold at $10.50 to $12.50, a few up to $13. Tidy weight yearlings brought $11 to $12, and were in better demand than heavier cattle. Cows. helfers, calves and buils were quoted steady.

Steady.

Choice 550 to 700-pound stock steers and heifers are in fairly active demand. Trade in weighty feeders is slow. Good thin, big-framed steers suitable for grazing are meeting a better demand, but they are rather scarce. Selected feeders are selling at $11.50 to $12.50, others $9.50 to $11.25, stockers range from $7.50 to $11.25, few below $8.50, or above $10.50.

Hog prices were lower again today, but top price today, $14.25, was paid for lightweights. Medium weights sold up to $14.10, and heavy grades up to $13.90. The bulk of all the offerings brought $13.25 to $13.85. Packers are buying some rough heavy hogs as low as $13, choice pigs sold up to $14.25. Other markets are showing greater price spreads than here.

Other markets are showing greater price spreads than here.

Good to choice horses and mules remath in active demand at fully steady prices. Some plain and medium grades were quoted down $10 a head. Both receipts and demand remain liberal.
